Artist Statement

I create digital media work that explores other worldly fantasy realms through vivid use of color. I aim to intrigue my viewers by hiding small details throughout my artwork to keep the eye moving. Mostly creating the world around my characters to show the expanding story that are brought out. Blending cute color schemes and character designs with elements of horror to blend contradictions together. I want to show that cute and horror are great matches that explore a different call to audiences. Using female forms to show that there are more than their looks, but also a story behind every pretty face. I create fantasy stories and animations using digital media to be able to expand who can see with ease. I want the audience to find the repeating symbols and put the clues to discover the bigger connections. Laying down the mystery is the best part to of watching the audience put together a theory of how they all connect. I think best way to understand a character is how they live and posture themselves in their worlds.
